Goals	Be respectful to each other. Be nice and try not to be too harsh to your teammates
	Make the team meetings fun for every participant
	Help each other
	Be productive and work efficient
Meeting norms	Everybody has to show up
	Don't waste your teammates time
	Everyone comes prepared to the meetings
	Everyone is motivated and contributes actively
Working norms	Decisions are made democratically
	We support each other
Coordination norms	Everyone is responsible for his/her assigned tasks and has to deliver. If problems arise, tell the team in time
	Every developer can pick tickets for each sprint. Try to respect others' wishes
	POs moderate the meeting, but everyone can always state his/her opinion
Communication norms	Respect everyone's opinion
	Respond to messages at least on the next day
	Everyone checks all message channels at least on time per day (except weekends)
Consideration norms	POs can always stop discussions when they deem them irrelevant or too specific for the whole team meeting
	The scrum master intervenes whenever a discussion gets out of hand
Cont. improvement norms	Try to improve the quality by giving constructive feedback
	Respect that every developer has his/her own way of doing things
	Try to find the underlying reason if the sprint plan fails
Rewards	We occasionally have meetings just for fun (eat dinner, drink some beer e.g.)
Sanctions	We always try to solve problems immediately as a team. If that does not work out we will sanction specific behavior or a member after a democratic discussion
